

Autumn Leaves

I watch the trees as the Leaves fall down
I look at them with a big frown
I feel bad for the trees as the leaves fall
Because soon they will have no leaves at all
The last leaf falls from the tree
I look at it and it looks at me
I stand up and there's a nice breeze
I take a big breath with ease
I take a stroll and look at the world around me
I now know that this is the way it's supposed to be
